Harry Kramph left Monday evening for Philadelphia. He will visit relatives there and this fall will become a student at a university located at Bethlehem, Penn. Will Woodhurst came down from Sidney the early part of the week and spent several days in town. While quite well pleased with Sidney, he thinks there is no place like North Platte.

Mrs. J. H McConnell, of Omaha, spent several days in the city this week visiting her many friends. Mr. McConnell was here yesterday, having come in from the west Thursday evening. On July 3d Rev. W. A. Amshary united Chas. N. Mason and Miss Nellie Lytchlyter in marriage. The young folks are both residents of this city, Mr. Mason being in the dairy business.

R. H. Langford made a trip through the country this week looking after the fences that enclose the county superintendent's office. He repaired quite a number of gaps and otherwise set things in order for the fall campaign.
